ABOUT JINGELLIC

PUB

The Jingellic Pub originally named The Bridge Hotel, was established in 1925. The Bridge Hotel getting its name from the old bridge crossing next to the pub - that you can see the foundations of still today - crossing over the Murray River into Victoria and the town ship of Walwa.

Jingellic Pub is an iconic country pub with friendly staff and locals as well as an amazing atmosphere throughout the pub and area.

With full service pub and accommodation facilities, including country hotel, bistro, beer garden as well as cabin and holiday house accommodation, the Jingellic Pub also adjoins an extensive free camping facility run by the Snowy Valleys Council.

Fully situated along the banks of the Murray, the Jingellic Pub provides a standalone holiday destination or perfect respite from a busy travel schedule, just a stone's throw from Holbrook, Corryong, Tumbarumba and the Albury Wodonga region.
